SENIOR LECTURE IN MEDICINE
(Confirmation Path)
DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE
UNIVERSITY OF OTAGO, CHRISTCHURCH
and
CONSULTANT NEUROLOGIST
CANTERBURY DISTRICT HEALTH BOARD

Applications are invited for a full-time position as Senior Lecturer in Medicine and Consultant Neurologist, Christchurch Hospital. This is a confirmation path appointment available immediately.

The successful applicant will be a member of the University of Otago, Christchurch School of Medicine and will be responsible to the Head of Department for a variety of teaching and research activities.

As Senior Lecturer in Medicine the successful applicant will join a large and diverse group of teachers and researchers. They will be expected to contribute to the teaching and assessment of 4th, 5th and 6th year medical students in the undergraduate programme, and to the FRACP training Programme. They will be expected to undertake research in their own discipline, and to contribute to general Departmental and School activities.

As Consultant Neurologist, they will join a department comprising five other neurologists, two registrars and two housephysicians. They will have clinical experience and post-graduate qualifications allow them to be listed on the NZMC Specialist Register. They will participate, on a 0.6 FTE basis, in a roster of duties that includes all aspects of inpatient, outpatient and consultative clinical work.

It is expected that the successful applicant(s) will have completed or be completing a higher degree (PhD or MD) by research. They will be expected to continue a programme of research. They will be enthusiastic teachers with an ability to relate to undergraduate students and have demonstrated proficiency in clinical service. They will teach in general medicine as well as in their subdiscipline. They will have, or be developing, good skills in the supervision of students. The ability to work in a multi-disciplinary team is essential.
