

Neurologists required in a busy Sydney practice

We are looking for enthusiastic and diligent neurologists to join our existing team. We are an established specialist medical practice and serve a large population with long waiting lists. We are strategically located close to Sutherland Hospital and have close ties with other practices and general practitioners in the community. Newly qualified neurologists are most welcome!

The practice is a newly renovated and tastefully decorated suite of multiple rooms, fully equipped with Apple desk-top computers and wall mounted state of the art Welch-Allyn units including panoptic ophthalmoscopes. We use modern medical software and transcription services with a rapid turn-around time. We are open 5 days a week and offer a very attractive percentage.

We welcome general neurologists and those with subspecialist interests. Nerve conduction studies can be performed on site on a brand new machine. EEG and MRI can be accessed at nearby locations.

For those who are interested, a part share in the practice may also be available.
