Join the Specialty Medical Assessment Tribunal

Are you an experienced specialist medical practitioner looking to make a difference to the lives of injured Queensland workers?

Apply to join the Specialty Medical Assessment Tribunal - independent panels of medical specialists who decide complex medical questions.

Tribunals are an integral part of the Queensland workers' compensation scheme, providing an independent medical assessment of injury or impairment for workers' compensation claims.

We are seeking expressions of interest from specialists in the following fields:

- neurology
- otorhinolaryngology (ENT)
- disfigurement
- ophthalmology
- cardiology
- dermatology
- orthopaedics.

As a tribunal member you can expect:

- a generous remuneration package
- intellectually stimulating work
- the opportunity to learn, interact and network with senior practitioners
- paid training in assessment methodology
- modest time commitment for busy clinicians.

Virtual attendance is available if required, so regional and interstate specialists are encouraged to apply.
